

Maximum Fantasy Sports Offers Free Super Bowl Square Pools

Host your Super Bowl Square Pools for free at Maximum Fantasy Sports.

January 4, 2009 (FPRC) -- Maximum Fantasy Sports is offering free Super Bowl Square Pools for the 2009 NFL Super Bowl. This service falls in line with the trend MFS established by offering its Survivor, Confidence and Pick 'em Pools for free. These services are generally pay services across the fantasy sports industry; many sites charge a flat fee for hosting Super Bowl Square Pools with an additional per-head charge.

Maximum Fantasy Sports Super Bowl Square Pools contain advanced customization options which allow for unique payout options. Site members can configure Pools that have payout options on any and all quarters, overtime and the reverse of those periods. The random number generation can be triggered by the Pool owner or by the site. Also, an option can be chosen to re-randomize at the end of each quarter. On the off-chance that a Pool is not completely sold out, MFS contains configuration settings for handling that condition for all payouts, with unique options to choose from.

Maximum Fantasy Sports is the only fantasy football site that allows both player and position draft pre-ranks, giving Maximum Fantasy Sports the most sophisticated draft control in fantasy football, and that allows Commissioners to configure a league with in-game player changes. This feature is optional, but, when used, gives the manager the ability to immediately react to injuries or player benching situations and substitute in another player at that position for the remaining unplayed quarters or half of that fantasy player's game. If you have trouble coping with the NFL Bye weeks, Maximum Fantasy Sports has a configuration option that allows you to rollover a player's performance to his Bye week. Another unique feature is the opportunity to play a championship game between the winner of your league and the winner of another Maximum Fantasy Sports league and to trade draft picks before the draft.
