Mad Friday is seen by most to be the official start of the festive season. As people finish work and their Christmas Shopping, Sound and Vision of West Yorkshire and Greater Manchester invite them in store for a bit of Mad Friday Sales Week madness on On 3D HD LED, LCD Plasma, Home Cinema and Electricals...

December 16, 2010 (FPRC) -- To help kick start the festivities across the country, Sound and Vision the North West favourite electrical retailers is having a Mad Friday sale.

Originating in the USA as Black Friday, Mad Friday in the UK is a growing tradition and signifies the end of work, ready for Christmas. On Mad Friday people will leave their offices and attempt to finish the last of their Christmas shopping. As Christmas shopping can be stressful, Sound and Vision are getting in on the Mad Friday action and having Mad Friday sales.

The Sound and Vision Mad Friday sales will be featured in the Sound and Vision Bolton TV shop, the Leeds television store and online at www.soundandvision.co.uk. Sound and Vision are experts in home cinema, and pride themselves on delivering an exceptional level of customer service, providing customers with expert advice, recommendations and assistance. All of the Sound and Vision sales staff are well trained AV home cinema enthusiasts, and know their stuff when it comes to AV. The sales men at Sound and Vision know their home cinema, and are an ideal set of people to talk to should customers need help and assistance when upgrading their home cinema system, television or hi-fi equipment.

Located in the North West, Sound and Vision have been in the AV industry for about 17 years, delivering deals to local and national customers. The first Sound and Vision television retail shop is located on Farnworth high street which is a stone's throw away from the centre of Bolton. In the original Bolton TV store is like an Aladdin's Cave, full of the latest LCD televisions, LED HDTVs, and plasma TVs as well as the latest surround sound home cinema systems, speakers, amplifiers and more. Another feature to the TV shop in Bolton is the dedicated KEF demonstration room. In the KEF room you can test drive the latest KEF speakers, from in wall and in ceiling speakers, to the top of the range floor standing speakers, satellite speakers, and more.

If you do not want to venture to Bolton, check out the newly opened Leeds Sound and vision television store in Armley. Neatly positioned off the A28 ring road, the Sound and Vision electrical retail shop offers an exceptional range of products from all the major manufacturers like Sony, Panasonic, Philips, Sharp and more. As well as the big name electrical brands the Sound and vision shops also carry products from specialist brands like KEF, Yamaha and Onkyo.

During the Mad Friday sale both of the TV shops will have discounts and offers available on all these top brands, with major reductions on their latest product offerings including televisions, DVD players, Blu-ray recorders, Speakers AV amplifiers, Tv stands cables and more.

If you find yourself located miles from sunny Bolton and dazzling Leeds you can still get in on a bit of Mad Friday action on the Sound and Vision website. In the mad Friday sales online on at Sound and Vision you can still expect to find great offers, reductions and promotions across a massive range of home cinema products. Customers will be offered real value for money in the form of package deals, and offers on the Sound and Vision website in the Mad Friday sale.

The website can be found by visiting www.soundandvision.co.uk, where offers and affordable prices can be found all year round. As well as low prices, and savings customers will also discover a massive selection of online video reviews rating the latest televisions and home cinema products. Presented by the Sound and Vision shop manager Chris Booth the product review videos are designed to inform the customers of the latest technology, pointing out the best features and functions the products have to offer. Sound and Vision pride themselves on delivering an exceptional service to all customers, locally and nationally and this is reflected in their in depth, highly informative website. As well as detailed video reviews, the Sound and Vision electrical and home cinema website features comprehensive product descriptions and specifications to give the customers as much information about a products as they possibly can.

The Mad Friday sale kicks off the festive season on the 17th of December 2010. Customers are invited to take advantage off the special offers and discounted low prices that will be available in their television shops in Bolton and Leeds as well as online on the Sound and Vision website.
