Broten Garage Door & Gate now carries America's best selling line of Impact Rated Entry Doors by Therma-Tru. Adding entry doors to their product line is a natural progression in Broten's goal to keep South Florida homes safe, stylish, and energy efficient.

December 16, 2010 (FPRC) -- Broten Garage Door & Gate, the customer service leader in the garage door industry for South Florida since 1955, announces the addition of entry doors to its collection of high quality products. Broten is now selling and installing Therma-Tru Entry Doors, America's most preferred brand.

Broten offers the complete line of Therma-Tru Impact Rated fiberglass entry doors. Therma-Tru entry doors are beautifully crafted, energy efficient, secure, and easy to maintain. These doors come in many styles and finishes, including oak, mahogany, rustic and fire-rated doors, and offer the best warranty in the industry.

Broten Garage Door & Gate President, Kriste LaMay, commented on the new products for her company. "There are many similarities between garage doors and entry doors so this is a natural progression for our company. Both the garage and the entry door are important parts of the security of a home during rough weather and hurricanes. They both add significant curb appeal value to the home. We spent a good deal of time investigating and researching entry doors in order to make sure we could provide the same expertise and professionalism that we are known for in the garage door industry. We are convinced that Broten will be a leader in the entry door industry for South Florida very soon."

Broten invests over $500,000 annually in training and continuing education for its employees and spent a significant amount of time and money in 2010 training its sales and service departments in how to install, inspect, and repair entry doors.
