

Trade Show Displays Get Elegant iPad Holders With New Skyline® Tablet Mount

Skyline Exhibits Introduces The Skyline Tablet Mount, Providing Theft-Deterrent Integration of Touch-Screen Tablet Computers Into Trade Show Exhibits

November 23, 2011 (FPRC) -- Saint Paul, MINN.— Skyline Exhibits, North America's leading custom modular trade show exhibit and portable display provider, announces the launch of the Skyline Tablet Mount, a new accessory for trade show displays.

Skyline's Tablet Mount harnesses the amazing new tool for trade show exhibitors – tablet computers -- exemplified by the innovative iPad.

"Tablet computers are a great tool for exhibitors," said Bill Dierberger, President of Skyline Exhibits, "because they add visual spice to personal presentations, increase interactivity with their touch screens, and can speed up lead fulfillment."

Yet, tablet computer's amazing portability also creates a new problem -- that they will get carried away during the show. That's why Skyline introduced the Skyline Tablet Mount – to allow exhibitors to integrate these popular tablet computers into their trade show exhibit designs, with the added benefit of theft deterrence.

Echoing the design cues of these elegant new digital devices, the Skyline Tablet Mount is sleek, modern looking, with easy installation, and is easy to attach and reposition. The Skyline Tablet Mount fits the iPad and the iPad2, and can attach to multiple Skyline exhibit systems, including the Slotted Tube System, Tube Ultra System, the Convey® Placard System, and the Skyline Occasions® and Arrive® table systems.

The Skyline Tablet Mount is the latest in a string of successful new trade show display products recently introduced by Skyline Exhibits. These various new products have given exhibitors greater impact, flexibility, portability, and functionality in their trade show exhibits. These innovative new products have helped Skyline win numerous product design and trade show awards over the last two years, including Exhibitor's Best New Product Design Award and Exhibitor's Buyer's Choice Award.
