

Canadian Trade Show Display Company, Skyline Montreal, Saves Client International Shipping Fees

Skyline Montreal, a trade show display company, recently coordinated the delivery of a customer's trade show exhibit to an event in Las Vegas. Skyline saved its clients hundreds of dollars in shipping and freight charges.

January 16, 2012 (FPRC) -- MONTREAL, QB, CANADA - Skyline Exhibits, a leading Canadian trade show exhibit company, recently organized the delivery of a customer's trade show display directly to the event venue in Las Vegas, NV. Because Skyline took care of the international delivery for its client, Richporter, the client was able to save hundreds of dollars in shipping and freight charges.

The Richporter exhibit was designed and purchased near the client in Montreal, yet Skyline's extensive, worldwide network of offices allowed the company to provide local service at the exhibit site. The Las Vegas office handled the delivery, installation and dismantle of the trade show display.

"If our client had coordinated the shipment of their trade show display from Montreal to Las Vegas, the shipping charges could have been significant. Additionally, Richporter was able to only worry about getting their people to the trade show -- because we took care of the shipping, they knew they could count on Skyline to get the exhibit there in one piece and that it would be installed professionally by experts who are well-versed in every aspect of trade show installation," said Michael Thimmesch of Skyline Exhibits.

Skyline Exhibits has offices in 38 countries around the world, which means that exhibitors from Canada can benefit from the company's extensive network of offices. Exhibitors can work on a trade show booth design with a local representative, yet take advantage of Skyline's offices around the world. This means that exhibitors from the United States or Canada don't need to worry about a language barrier when they're trying to get their trade show display set up in countries like China or Germany.

Customers who are looking for rental units can also take advantage of the different Skyline Service Centers. A trade show exhibit can be expensive, especially for a company with a small marketing budget, which makes a rental unit especially attractive. However, a rental exhibit from Skyline can still be fully customized, which means event attendees will never know that a display is a rental unit.

"Exhibiting at a trade show can be highly stressful and this stress is exacerbated if you're exhibiting with a display that you're not familiar with or in a country where you don't speak the language. Skyline's network of offices means that our customers never have to worry about working with a third party and our expertise means that they know they'll be taken care of, no matter what type of situation they're faced with," said Thimmesch.
