June 9, 2012 (FPRC) --Cycle, the high performance carbon bicycle manufacturer, is pleased to see that Hollywood director Tom Shadyac is enjoying his Stradalli "29er" carbon mountain bike. The Stradalli "29er" is perfect for racing and trail riding, and as Tom has learnt, it is the perfect companion for exploring the Colorado mountains.

Tom Shadyac is well known to movie fans all over the world. As the director of hits like Ace Ventura: Pet Detective, The Nutty Professor, Liar Liar, Bruce Almighty, and I Am, Tom is one of Hollywood's best directors. But Shadyac is more than a director. He is also a comedian, screenwriter, and producer. As a writer and comedian, Shadyac made a name for himself at an early age. At 24, he moved to LA and became the youngest staff joke writer ever for comedian Bob Hope. Today as well as his various film projects, Tom is an adjunct professor of communication and teaches screenwriting at Pepperdine University's Seaver College.

Tom Shadyac is a longtime friend of Mountainfilm and in 2010 he premiered his movie "I Am" at the Mountainfilm in Telluride Festival which is set in the mountains at 8,750 feet in Telluride, Colorado. The festival was started by mountain enthusiasts who walked and climbed the mountains by day and watched films about mountains by night.

While at Mountainfilm, Tom has the chance to follow in the footsteps of the festival founders and enjoy the spectacular mountains in Colorado. The Stradalli 29er is an ideal bike for "playing", as Tom calls it, in the great outdoors.

"The Stradalli '29er' is an excellent mountain bike for anyone with a passion for riding," said Thomas Steinbacher. "We are so pleased that Tom Shadyac is enjoying his Stradalli and hope it will bring him inspiration and fun as he rides it."

The Stradalli "29er" has a tapered head tube which significantly stiffens the control center to improve all-round control authority. With a BB92 press fit bottom bracket the "29er" will outperform some of the biggest name brands at a fraction of the cost.
