

PooPeePads.com Announces Cutest Dog Contest Winners

PooPeePads, a leading retailer of training pads for dogs and puppies, held a cutest dog contest starting in April 2012. Nearly one-hundred contestants submitted entries online via Facebook and Twitter. The winner has been announced and the prize for first place was $300 worth of PooPeePads credit!

October 18, 2012 (FPRC) -- PooPeePads.com, located in Jericho, NY offered a credit of $300 towards PooPeePads products for the winner. Contestants submitted online photos of their dog's cutest pose through the company's Facebook Fan Page and through Twitter. All of the adorable entries can be seen on PooPeePads' Facebook Fan Page.

'Congratulations to all of the entrants into our cutest dog contest!' said Joel Falitz, public relations director for PooPeePads. 'We were blown away with just how adorable your pups are and picking winners wasn't easy! Judging by the pics of your puppies, we think you're all winners here!'

'The winner of the 2012 PooPeePads Cutest Dog Contest goes to Nancy Lee Jernigan Brannon's pup who won a PooPeePads credit of $300. Congratulations Nancy!!' Joel continued, 'In 2nd place, congratulations to Doreen McLeod for her cutie PeeWee puggle! In 3rd place, congratulations to Kaci Costello for her adorable Freud and Pavlov! It was so hard to choose the winners. Look for more contests in the future. We love to see your picture-perfect puppies!'
