June 19, 2013 (FPRC) -- Leading UK property agent, Experience Invest, has launched a new, interactive Student Property Investment Guide which contains practical investment information about the UK student property sector. The free brochure contains a wide range of interactive features, investment tips and also contains a range of exclusive UK student property investments.

With over 800 individual student rooms sold, Experience Invest is one of the UK's leading agents marketing and selling student accommodation investments. The company has published a new, interactive Student Property Investment Guide, which is packed full of information about investing in the UK's top performing asset class.

According to Knight Frank's industry experts student property in the UK outperformed every other commercial property class by delivering consistent returns over the past few years. Student accommodation continues to generate stronger returns compared to other traditional buy-to-let investments, with many investors now investing within the sector.

Influencing factors include high demand for rooms due to the growth of overseas student numbers, rising applications from domestic students and a lack of university funding for new accommodation, has helped drive the sector, with CBRE stating that there was a record £2.7 Billion invested in UK student accommodation in 2012.

Experience Invest's free online Student Property Investment Guide, provides investors with a wealth of information about the market and offers informed and researched advice about how to get the most out of a student accommodation investment.

After researching within the guidelines of the company's strict due diligence process, Experience Invest has selected a number of key locations across the country which it considers suitable spots for student accommodation investment. Speaking about the UK's top locations for investment, Business Development Manager at Experience Invest, Jerald Solis commented:

'Knowledge economies outside of London offer investors a lower entry level into lucrative investments where the locations of these projects offer higher yields for investors.'
