July 8, 2014 (FPRC) --

The new Words of Wisdom (WOW) Podcast by Corey Poirier is finally here.

A Podcast designed for Lifestyle Entrepreneurs, Career Individuals, Business Owners, Social Change Agents, or Side-Preneurs, the WOW Podcast is the brain-child of Speaker / Author / Serial Entrepreneur / Interviewer Corey Poirier.

Designed to provide words of wisdom by some of the highest of achievers in the world, the new show is designed to help transform lives, and reveal insight that listeners can take immediate action on. Wisdom listeners can listen to the new weekly show in their car, at the gym, or during their Hour of Power.

Each episode brings wisdom, insight, inspiration, life and success lessons via featured guest stories (stories by some of the world's most renown thought leaders) or while listener's questions are answered.

Poirier himself is no stranger to this format and in fact, he is also the host of the highly popular Conversations With Passion Radio Show that is the parent show to this new Podcast.

"I decided to launch the new WOW Podcast so that we could give our listeners more access to insight by such thought leaders as Jack Canfield, John Gray, Tony Horton, Chalene Johnson, Pat Flynn, T. Harv Eker, Rain Pryor and more - access that our Conversations With Passion Radio Show doesn't allow due to format and structure. I also wanted to take and answer questions from our listeners, and share their favorite quotes and insights and this new Podcast fits that format well." notes Poirier, "I wanted to make this a show for a specific listener."

The new WOW Podcast can be heard on iTunes and Stitcher Radio and there is also a new contest for those who rate and review the show. Hear the show on iTunes at
