

Carbonite Offer Code Published On American Future To Help Save On Backup Plans

American Future is offering people a great money saving opportunity on cloud storage for backup, with a Carbonite offer code that entitles users to a massive 50% off the initial purchase price.

San Francisco, CA, March 23, 2015 (FPRC) -- In the 21st century, data is getting bigger and bigger. At the same time, devices are getting smaller, thinner and more portable. This leaves people needing a backup storage point for their non-essential data. This backup can be expensive, and if on a home external hard drive, difficult to access on the go. Carbonite offers a solution, with cloud backup services. American Future has just published a coupon code to help people get the very best price on these services, to liberate their data.

The Carbonite offer code entitles American Future users to a massive 50% off the initial purchase price of a Carbonite data plan, whether it be a personal plan, pro plan or server plan. This means individuals, SMEs and multinationals can all benefit from the deal.

The post also includes a detailed review of the product and an analysis of what each package has in store. The review also puts the product head to head against competitors to show people how the Carbonite product stacks up against the industry.

A spokesperson for American Future explained, "Mozy and CrashPlan both have definite advantages over Carbonite's plan, but Carbonite offers a great rate and a perfectly adequate service for general users. Mozy and CrashPlan have specific features that are better for those who need to be more security conscious or have huge amounts of data to upload, but by and large this coupon makes Carbonite a great deal for entry-level users of cloud storage. This is just one of the many money saving opportunities we offer on the latest technologies, tools and approaches available, so users should check back regularly for the latest offers."
