

Freelance SEO Essex Expands Team After Highly Successful First Quarter in 2015

The Essex-based SEO agency has announced the arrival of two new team members after experiencing substantial growth in the first quarter of 2015.

April 1, 2015 (FPRC) -- After a hugely successful start to 2015, the team at Freelance SEO Essex (FSE) are proud to announce the arrival of two new staff members in less than a month.

The agency has employed a new Content Marketing Manager to meet the growing demand for web copy. He will be on hand to create and collate all kinds of content, including blogs, online press releases and landing pages. He will also be liaising directly with clients to ensure they are heavily involved in their content marketing campaigns, opening up the channel of communication between both parties and generating quality, accurate copy to strict deadlines.

Providing a new level of support to clients, FSE's new Junior Campaign Manager will be on hand to help the team manage clients' expectations and co-ordinate a wide range of PR and link building activities. She will be working in tandem with each department to ensure targets are met and a strong, consistent service is delivered to the agency's ever-widening client base.

'We decided to recruit simply because we're in high demand,' says Danielle Haley, Co-Director at FSE. 'We recognised that we needed more staff in order to maintain the high level of service that our existing clients expect. We now also have the capacity to take on more complex projects and the move has opened up our services to more Essex businesses.'

'Both new team members are settling into their roles and have already contributed fresh ideas that have helped us improve our service delivery,' she continues.

'We're looking forward to expanding our team further in 2015.'
