

How to Start a Blog Online Publishes 34 Reasons Why People and Businesses Should Get Blogging

How To Start A Blog Online has created a new list of thirty four great reasons to start blogging, for both individuals and businesses, which is already proving a viral hit.

San Francisco, CA - September 7, 2015 (FPRC) -- There is a saying in the online community that Content Is King. This means that both people and search engine algorithms respond best to websites that have volumes of information. When this information is made accessible, easy to read and even entertaining, bloggers have managed to become financially independent off the back of their work. How To Start A Blog is a website that helps people take their first steps on that journey, and has just published a new editorial not on how, but on why, people should start blogging.

The site, which offers a huge array of resources on how to make a blog for beginners who may have no previous technical or online experience, is now expanding its mission to look at the importance of blogging in terms of the impact it has on people's lives.

The new editorial covers no less than 34 advantages to blogging, both from a financial and business perspective, and from the perspective of building personal confidence and enriching life, both through expanding horizons and communities and sharpening personal skills and abilities.

A spokesperson for How To Start A Blog Online explained, "The new article is an exciting one for us. When we first launched the website, the first thing we advised our users to start with is 'why start a blog?' We said this because blogging must first and foremost be an act of passion on the part of the writer. The work done by our team has paid dividends to us in our personal and professional lives, and that brought us back to that 'why' question, with the discovery there were many great reasons. We are sharing some of the most important in this new post, to encourage others to take advantage of this great medium."
