Athens, TX -- February 18, 2016 (FPRC) -- According to 2011 statistics published by the Recreational Vehicle Industry Association, RV ownership has reached record levels across the United States. In fact, they estimate that nearly 9 million Americans are the proud owners of a recreational vehicle. In 2015, a CNBC report confirmed this trend, revealing that RV owners are more active than ever and have embraced RV ownership as a lifestyle.

It is with these statistics and trends in mind that Welcome Back RV Outlet, an Athens, Texas-based RV dealer, is introducing their full suite of services for RV owners and those interested in living the RV lifestyle. From new and Used RV Sales to repairs and insurance, owners and soon-to-be owners can find everything they need at Welcome Back RV Outlet.

Tammy Stewart, a spokesperson for Welcome Back RV Outlet, stated "There is no doubt that the RV industry is thriving. We believe that's because people have begun to recognize all of the benefits that owning an RV can bring. Today's RV's offer an unprecedented level of comfort with all of the same amenities that a person can get in their own home. In addition, those who own recreational vehicles enjoy more freedom, flexibility, and versatility in their travel and leisure activities as well as more affordability when it comes to vacations. This is the type of lifestyle that we aim to help our customers take advantage of."

Stewart goes on to say, "We are a full-service RV outlet, which means that our team has the ability to fulfill just about any need that an RV owner or someone looking to own an RV would have. In addition to a high-quality inventory of both new and used RV's, we also offer RV Parts and Service departments that are open 6 days a week and can help owners properly maintain their vehicles. Those who are in need of solutions for insurance and extended warranty plans can count on us as well. We even have an RV park on our premises."

"Whether it's a used RV that needs an extended service plan or New RV Sales, our team prides itself on making our customers the number one focus. Whatever they may need help with when it comes to RV sales and ownership, they can rest assured that when they contact us, they will see the value in being treated just like family."
