Axiom Biopharma, a leading research and development-based biopharmaceutical company, announces that it has agreed to acquire the assets of CellMark Biopharma, LLC, a Medical Nutrition company with leading products CellAssure and Cognify composed of ingredients clinically proven to advance cellular health. Fort Myers, United States - January 11, 2017 /PressCable/ -- Axiom Biopharma, a leading research and development-based biopharmaceutical company, announces that it has agreed to acquire the assets of CellMark Biopharma, LLC, a Medical Nutrition company with products composed of ingredients clinically proven to advance cellular health.

Under the terms of the agreement, Axiom will acquire the assets of the business/ product units - CellAssure and Cognify, and retain several members of the Executive team, support and field personnel. Axiom Biopharma is providing a significant opportunity to continue building on CellMark's successful nationwide launch of CellAssure, a medical nutrition supplement specifically designed to advance cellular health, and Cognify, the first of its kind cognitive enhancer specifically formulated for what's commonly referred to as 'brain fog', and play a leading role in the medical nutrition and dietary market space.

"We are excited about the new opportunities the Axiom platform provides as we continue to grow our presence in the 'Medical Nutrition' sector", stated Axiom Biopharma's CEO, Craig Pizaris-Henderson. "Further, we have several additional announcements as we enter 2017 and expand our team and product distribution through several new partnerships."

With the initial launch of CellAssure and Cognify, CellMark was able to gain traction in most of North America. With the combined resources of Axiom and CellMark, Axiom expects to expand of all 50 states and begin distribution internationally in the second half of 2017.

"Our passion to find solutions for global unmet dietary and nutritional needs fuels our R&D efforts to develop products that have the highest potential to positively impact global consumers in the medical nutrition sector", stated Erica Boliek, Axiom Biopharma's Chief of Research and Development.

Axiom Biopharma also announced it will be moving forward immediately in pursuit of conducting clinical trials consisting of people looking to increase lean muscle mass and advance their cellular health.
