When asked about the reasons behind creating this event, the host of the event, Institute of Ecologonomics said:

"This will be a celebration of the planet and people"

Mark Shepard, the world famous Founder of Restoration Agriculture Development, LLC will be presenting a 2+Day Workshop at the Earthday Weekend 2017 IDEA Celebration. Mr. Shepard said, "The Institute of Ecologonomics has developed a true restoration agriculture model of ecological aquaculture at this beautiful ranch location. This is truly a showcase site for new age agriculture." Mr. Shepard will teach and give hands on demonstrations about how to turn a degraded property into an restored agricultural farming showcase, which will generate legacy income and value.

There will be food, fun, workshops, a fishing tournament, tours, hay-rides and more.

Dr. Wayne Dorband, President of the INSTITUTE of ECOLOGONOMICS, LLC will be teaching a unique One-Day Workshop on Ecological Aquaculture during the Earth Day IDEA Weekend, on Sunday April 23. Participants will learn how to build, manage and reap the benefits from a pond or stream based aquaculture system that is in complete harmony with the ecology of the land.
