

Melbourne Video Production Network Launches To Provide Best Video Services To Businesses

Melbourne Video Production Network has been created to connect Melbourne's best filmmakers with businesses in need of the best results for their video output.

Melbourne Video Production Network has been created to connect Melbourne's best filmmakers with businesses in need of the best results for their video output. Melbourne, Australia - March 13, 2017 /MarketersMedia/ -- Filmmaking is a collaborative art form, and it takes specialists in many fields coming together to create something truly unforgettable. For many businesses, independently sourcing the specialists required can take too great a toll on both time and resources, forcing them to settle for less. Melbourne Video Production Network is a new association created by Melbourne's most talented filmmakers to help them present their best face to the corporate world, connecting experts in camerawork, sound, post visual effects and animation with businesses who want next level video content.

The new network (www.video-production.melbourne) can help businesses, individuals and even couples to find the videography services they need. Whether it be corporate video for internal or external use, wedding and travel videography or music video production, all the way up to full scale television production and sports coverage, the network can provide handpicked teams of experts who can deliver the best possible results.

The network was formed by freelance camera men to take advantage of the connections they had made in the broader film and TV industry and bring them to bear on corporate work, providing help and assistance at every stage, from conceptualisation to execution to editing and publishing. Individuals can find out all they need to know by visiting the Melbourne Video Production Network on Facebook.

A spokesperson for Melbourne Video Production Network explained, "We are thrilled to be able to launch the Melbourne Video Production Network and help both individuals and businesses in Melbourne find a one-stop shop for all their videography needs. Created and manned by experienced industry professionals, the Network will know exactly how best to achieve the desired effect clients are looking for, and who to employ to get those results. We are excited about what this means for businesses and filmmaking professionals throughout Melbourne and the surrounding areas."

About Melbourne Video Production Network: Melbourne Video Production Network (MVPN) is a professional network of experienced and knowledgeable cameramen and producers, all of whom are based in the Melbourne area.
