The site provides an educational test service free to students and job seekers looking to broaden their knowledge base, reports www.theonlinetestcentre.com. London, England - March 14, 2017 /MarketersMedia/ -- The Online Test Centre announced the introduction of their unique educational resource. The site aims to provide an educational test service free of charge to students and job seekers who may be interested in broadening their knowledge base. The Online Test Centre makes tests available across several categories, including numerical quizzes, diagrammatic reasoning tests, and more.

"Research has shown that frequent testing can be beneficial for the human brain, helping us retain information and learn how to quickly recall it when it is needed. As classrooms and workplaces become more cognitively demanding, it's important that students and those looking to enter the workforce keep their knowledge base broad and continue to sharpen their minds. We launched The Online Test Centre to help people around the world accomplish that goal as they look for ways to do better in school or increase their job performance," said Frank Richards of The Online Test Centre. The Online Test Centre's mission is to help students and job seekers do well in the recruitment process by ensuring they are fully prepared for any possible interview questions they may face. From logic tests to general knowledge quizzes, The Online Test Centre has resources that are suitable for visitors from around the world and across a number of specialties and industries. Each test on the site is and has always been offered free of charge, giving test-takers peace of mind that they will never have to pay for the service.

Richards went on to say, "The puzzles and tests found on our site use proven methodologies that challenge students and job seekers to learn the information they need to know to thrive in today's competitive job market. We are thrilled to be able to provide them with this comprehensive resource as they take initiative in preparing themselves for success."
