With both business and vacation travelers descending upon the city, finding quality, affordable accommodations can be a trial. With this in mind, Hotel Osterport (<http://www.hotelosterport.dk/>) has recently announced its low price accommodations for those who book through their site.

Says the hotel spokesperson, "Whether you're traveling for fun or a business meeting, the stay at a hotel is usually just a base or starting point for meetings, the good concert or experiences in the city. Therefore, the location is important because you do not want to spend unnecessary time on transportation." With that in mind, lower costs have been established to showcase the perfect location.

"Hotel Østerport is perfect for those looking for inexpensive accommodations close to several of Copenhagen's main sights. At the same time, Østerport Station is an excellent hub for those who need to go to/from Copenhagen airport or a trip around town. Both the train and bus are close by so visitors spend their cash on other attractions in addition to their lodgings. Additionally, for those who book at hotelosterport.dk, we're offering a free complete breakfast each day of your stay."

Further advantages have been added to the amenities, including convenient bike rental and free wi-fi in all rooms. "Just because we have the lowest prices around doesn't mean we're skimping on quality," says Hotel Osterport's representative. "We also provide a flat screen TV with a wide selection of channels and of course a lovely bath and toilet."

Situated next door to Osterport train station and near Oslo Square, the hotel takes pride in its excellent care of business travelers and tourists who want an affordable and centrally located hotel in Copenhagen.
