Solitaire Win is a web-based game mimicking the classic card game, and is available now for anyone to play freely online, whenever they wish. New York, United States - March 14, 2017 /MarketersMedia/ -- Solitaire is one of the all-time classic card games, able to be played by just one player, and is also a handy way to get a shuffled deck back in order. It has seen a second life on PCs throughout the 90s and early 00s, where it became a favorite way to spend some idle time between tasks, or simply relax after a long day. Now, this classic game is coming to the web, completely free to use for everyone, through a new website: Solitaire Win. The website immortalizes the classic game while making it available to all.

The website makes the game available to play by anyone at any time, on any device. The website makes use of a responsive design, which scales the display to match the screen it is being played on. The website also offers three distinct levels of difficulty to challenge players of all levels, whether trying the game for the first time or looking to for the most difficult combination of cards available.

For those discovering the game for the first time, the website has a full breakdown of how to play, as well as information on how people can interact with the features of the game, whether on a desktop or touch screen device. The aim is to make the game as accessible as possible.

A spokesperson for Solitaire Win explained, "We have immortalized this desktop classic on the internet, to encourage people to rediscover the simple joy of organizing a deck of cards through a challenging series of shuffles and reveals. The website is simple and clean, and designed to put the game at the forefront so individuals can just get on with enjoying themselves. It is always fun to play solitaire, and now people can play it wherever they are, whether on the bus home, at lunch or while in the restroom."

About Solitaire Win: Solitaire Win is an online game recreating the classic card game that allows single players to sort through a deck of cards using familiar rules of numbering the houses in ascending order. The website is quick to load and easy to use with intuitive controls, including three levels of difficulty. The site offers ready access to a timeless classic from any device.
