Rascal Radio is the world's first customizable personal development radio station, where subscribers have unlimited access to hundreds and hundreds of audio recordings from internationally recognized leadership experts, including Orrin Woodward and Chris Brady, which they can stream endlessly at their fingertips. On a global scale, Rascal Radio has been one of Life Leadership's most popular products to date, and that's why they are excited to announce the birth of Rascal Radio 3.0!

Rascal Radio 3.0 is not just a new paint job on an old car. The entire platform has been completely redesigned and Life is confident that you will be impressed with your new experience! Here are just some of the new features you can expect with Rascal Radio 3.0: A completely updated interface where you can search for audios; you can visually select your favorite speaker and subjects and have the ability to resume talks between sessions; manage your subscription within the App; and last, but certainly not least, the ability to resume audios from the last listened position.

With this new release, Rascal Radio 3.0 is now more affordable than ever at only $12/month!

It is an easy transition for current Rascal Radio subscribers as they need only update or re-download the app on their Apple or Android products. For brand-new Registered Customers, there is a 7-day FREE trial which can be accessed through a current Life Member who sells Life products.

Scott and Mindy Coons, current Rascal Radio subscribers, said of the product, "Rascal Radio is awesome! We love the option of choosing talks by speaker or subject. It's a great way to get a much needed dose of positive information to grow ourselves personally and professionally on an on-going basis."

There is much excitement surrounding the release of Rascal Radio 3.0 and all of the new enhancements that provide the life-changing information to help you live the life you've always wanted. Orrin Woodward
