Devel Granny Flats new website has just gone live showcasing their range of luxury designs for the Australian market. Strathfield South, Australia - March 14, 2017 /PressCable/ -- The New website of Devel Granny Flats has just gone live showcasing their range of custom designed high-tech luxury units.

The company is Sydney based, but due to dynamic growth in demand, intends to offer their attractive design and build packages shortly in Melbourne and Brisbane.

The website features the range of granny flats available to those wanting to derive additional income from their property through to those desiring a modern stand-alone accommodation unit.

Mr John Fadel, owner of Devel Granny Flats said, "We set out to create a high-quality range of affordable and innovative granny flats to meet the needs of a changing demographic in Sydney. The reception and demand we have received since the launch has been extremely encouraging and we intend to soon offer the design and build packages across Australia." He went on to say, "With the ever-increasing rise in property values in Sydney and Melbourne especially, property investors are wanting to enhance their rental yield and the addition of a customized granny flat is gaining great appeal given the ease of renting them."

Devel Granny Flats did an in-depth analysis of customer feedback to arrive at a website solution which suited the array of individual client needs, to deliver the most effective website user experience.

The new website design is mobile friendly to meet Google's strict requirements, is robust for ease of customers accessing it on all mobile and tablet devices.

Mr Fadel said, "We have structured the new website as a one stop resource for home owners and property investors wanting insights into the innovative granny flat designs available from us. The blog has informative material for the prospective buyer and more helpful articles will be continuously added. The new website reflects the company's commitment to staying abreast of and offering the latest custom granny flat designs at affordable prices."
