

Ehud Segev Records First Performance in Africa this Year

Mentalist Ehud Segev has just completed his first African performance in Ghana this year.

March 15, 2017 (FPRC) -- Ehud Segev, one of the world's foremost mentalist and mind reader, has recorded his first African performance this year in Accra, Ghana. This was during an event to commemorate the Jewish festival of Purim. Apparently, the event was a major success, attracting the attendance of members of the Jewish community, as well as prominent nationals in Ghana.

The Africa event was marked with pomp and color and entailed several of Ehud's most popular feats. Among other things, Mr. Segev can bend a spoon with his mind, as well as send a credit card flying. He also can read thoughts and decode body language, not to forget make people laugh.

Also known as 'The Mentalizer', Ehud Segev was born in 1979 in the Israeli city of Safed, which was home to some of the greatest scholars of Kabbalah, a rarefied school of thought native to Judaism. By the time he was just 12 years old, Ehud spent most of this time at the local library, reading books on body language, mysticism, mind reading and other cryptic subjects. By the time he was 16, Ehud was already featuring on Israeli news for his abilities to analyze behavior, read minds and influence people. By the time he was 19, he correctly predicted the winner in a mayor's contest, relying just on photographs of the aspirants to pick the winner. Ever since then, Mr. Segev has traveled the world, entertaining guests and performing in major cities from London to New York and Mumbai.

Ehud Segev was once awarded the EB-1 classification by the U.S State Department following his work entertaining U.S. forces in faraway bases. He has also appeared on major TV networks both in Israel and internationally. Ehud was one of the contestants featured on NBC's hit show, phenomenon, which brought together some of the biggest names in magic, mind-reading, and mysticism. Mr. Segev is also a published author of two bestselling books – Secrets of the Voice, and 9 Steps to Influence.

While most fans refer to Ehud's abilities as magic, he has been quick to reject that notion. The Mentalizer says that his unique abilities are an extrapolation of the innate powers of the human mind. According to Ehud Segev, anyone who's determined enough can master the same powers that he now has.

In an attempt to share his knowledge and insights with his audience, Ehud runs Mentalizer Education. People who are interested in learning body reading, mind reading and other skills that Ehud flaunts on global stages can start by reading the posts on Mentalizer Education official website. Mr. Segev has said that he is also working on a more thorough coaching program that will allow him to hand-hold his students in mentalism.
