

Three Arrows Menswear Launches Campaign On Kickstarter

Three Arrows Partners With Funded Today To Bring In More Pledges

Three Arrows Partners With Funded Today To Bring In More Pledges Los Angeles, United States - March 15, 2017 /FundedToday/ -- Three Arrows has launched a campaign featuring premium menswear for work and play. They hope that, with the help of Funded Today, they can be completely funded by the end of their campaign in April.

Product Specs

Three Arrows combines quality active wear, social wear and career wear in their high-quality, long-lasting fabrics and designs. Three Arrows is a locally-branded and built company; they source all their fabric and garments in the Silicon Valley of California. The clothing pieces are moisture-wicking, anti-bacterial and UV-cut, to help block and absorb harmful sun rays. The pieces are available in multiple styles and colors, and users can choose a subscription option which will have stylized pieces mailed directly to their door.

Pricing and Availability

Three Arrows has partnered with Funded Today to help bring in more pledges to their campaign. If the goal is met, the products are set to be manufactured and shipped to all backers worldwide by May 2017. The starting price for a Three Arrows active piece is $35.
