The IM Newbie is a highly popular and best-selling 'over the shoulder' internet marketing training course developed by the renowned web marketing expert, Kevin Fahey, with all the basic knowledge newbies, beginners and new marketers need to get started and set-up a successful, thriving business online.

A new edition of the highly sought after internet marketing training course, entitled IM Newbie St. Patrick's Day WSO, featuring five modules with more than 30 videos and PDF transcripts covering everything from hosting & website Cpanel to proper WordPress set-up and installation, list building, social media & branding or traffic generation, has been announced.

In the new St. Patrick's Day commemorative edition of the best-selling IM Newbie, all new marketers can quickly learn how to properly set-up a hosted website from scratch, including the email account setup or database installation as well as how to setup their first WordPress webpage, select the right theme and plugins and create their first blog.

Essential list building training, from how to create a squeeze page to properly setting up follow up emails and an autoresponder system, is also included along with crucial social media account set-up and integration training and proven strategies on how to brand the business correctly from the start or the best sources to start getting traffic online.

More information on the new IM Newbie St. Patrick's Day WSO along with a detailed list of the contents covered by its five internet marketing training modules and the benefits for newbies or new marketers just starting their business online can be consulted at the website link provided above along or at <http://muncheye.com/kevin-fahey-im-newbie-st-patrick-wso>.

The IM Newbie St. Patrick's Day WSO developer, Kevin Fahey, explains that "we're taking things back to basics with this new edition of IM Newbie. We know the simple reason many people cannot succeed online is the lack of basic knowledge that more experienced marketers would take for granted. In these five modules, new marketers who are just starting out with their online business, will find all of the 'newbie' training they need to succeed online."
