

Rescue Loop Launches Kickstarter Campaign

Rescue Loop Partners With Funded Today To Increase Number Of Pledges

Rescue Loop Partners With Funded Today To Increase Number Of Pledges New York City, United States - March 17, 2017 /FundedToday/ -- Rescue Loop has launched a Kickstarter campaign for their device that helps women recover from foot pain after wearing high heels. With the help of Funded Today, they hope to be completely funded by the end of March.

Product Specs

Rescue Loop works by using resistance to help users strengthen and stretch their feet. It pinpoints the tendons and muscles in the toes and ankles, and enables blood circulation in the feet. Rescue Loop is durable and small, making it easy to transport and easy to store.

Pricing and Availability

Rescue Loop has partnered with Funded Today to help increase pledges for their campaign. Once the campaign ends, the product is set to produce and ship to all backers worldwide by August 2017. The starting price for one Rescue Loop is $55.
