Helen King Hearing Solutions is a locally owned and operated business that offers professional Hearing services, hearing aids and equipment. It is owned by Helen King who is an accredited practitioner and qualified audiometrist. She also belongs to the Hearing Aid Audiometrist Society of Australia.

Helen King Hearing Solutions offer the latest in digital hearing aids to their patients.

The site explains that in recent times hearing aids have come a long way from the old style analogue hearing aids. These new digital hearing aids have many benefits including enhanced speech, reduction of background noise, are distortion free, reduced whistling sounds, are comfortable to wear and much more.

The company state that they offer five different styles of digital hearing aid, including some that are so small they are nearly invisible. They continue by saying that they are easy to wear and adjust due to them being lighter and more comfortable than old style hearing aids of the past. Clients can also have a free trial of the latest digital hearing aids to ensure that it correct for their needs.

It is explained on the site that one in six people in Australia has some type of hearing problems but only half act upon it until it is too late. By leaving a hearing problem too long the damage gets worse and is more challenging to correct. Helen King Hearing Solutions is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week and can book an appointment to have their hearing assessed quickly and efficiently.
