"Men find they can obtain the perfect suit for their wedding with the help of Chookhare and Sons. A groom can customize every element of the suit to tell their unique story, and this includes the fabric, fit, linings and monogramming. Every man planning a wedding this spring should schedule a consultation today," Ton Chookhare, founder for the company, recommends.

The entire process begins when the groom contacts the company. He is asked to provide some information about himself and the wedding. This information is then reviewed by stylists, and a stylist contacts the groom within 24 hours to begin creating the ideal suit for the occasion.

"Information needed at this time includes the type of suit the individual is looking for and the theme of the wedding or special event. Men who aren't sure of what they are looking for may check out the Lookbook featured on the site to get a better idea of what is available and what they may wish to have," Chookhare explains.

The company prides itself on crafting perfectly fitting apparel for clients. Each piece strikes the right balance between fashion and function, taking the client's unique lifestyle into account. The stylist comes to the client, as the goal is to build a relationship and deliver personalized style guidance for any occasion or event, including weddings.

"Don't hesitate to order other items when purchasing a wedding suit. We also offer made-to-order, customizable two and three-piece suits, tuxedos, blazers and sports coats, dress shirts and trousers. Each item is made to the client's body and preferences, thus it is always a perfect fit," Chookhare declares.
