Teddy Shake announced that a brand new website is in development for their best-selling rainbow gel pen set. The gel pens will continue to be sold on Amazon.com, the exclusive selling partner for the Teddy Shake gel pens, the website will simply detail information for customers, such different types of projects and why these Teddy Shake gel pens will work best for those projects. It will also be a place that customers can share information with each other.

"Our gel pens are not your standard gel pen," stated Teddy Shake spokesperson Bailey Anderson. "We have invested a significant amount into research and development to create the best gel pen possible. Our pens can do things that other pens cannot, and what better way to detail that information, than in on a custom website?"

The 105-piece gel pen set by Teddy Shake contains 60% more ink than standard gel pens, which ensures a longer lasting product for customers. In addition, the pens are acid-free and lead-free, making them safe for children, but also making them safe for scrapbooking, journaling and archival documents. The Teddy Shake gel pen set contains gel pens of many color varieties, including milky, glitter, metallic, neon, and rainbow.

A recent verified purchaser named Dawn wrote a five-star review for the gel pens and said, "Daughter purchased and LOVES them! Great product, lots of color choices!"

Currently priced at $27.99, the Teddy Shake gel pens will ship for free with any purchase of $49 or more.
