They have partnered with Funded Today to bring their product to a wider audience. They hope that this partnership will bring in more pledges for the remaining weeks of their campaign.

About Griffin Emblem

The Griffin Emblem line features automatic mechanical watches with skeleton and artistic design elements. The watches are made of sapphire crystal faces, stainless steel casings and genuine leather straps. Backers have a choice between two models: Option A--which is the skeleton model--and Option B, which is the limited edition piece. Option B comes with power reserve, Swiss newlite luminous hands, date window and calendar features. The watches can be pre-ordered in varying colors, including silver, black and rose gold. Interchangeable leather straps in are also available multiple colors.

Pricing and Availability

Griffin Emblem has already surpassed its Kickstarter funding goal by a large margin. The company has hired Funded Today to help increase the amount of pledges for the remaining time on their campaign. Once the project ends, the watches are set to be produced and shipped to all backers worldwide by October 2017. The starting price for one watch is $333.
