Today, YOUuniversal Products, LLC started selling 5-packs of 12" black plastic plant saucers on Amazon. This marks the start of a new line of plant saucer offerings from YOUuniversal Products. Prior to this announcement, their line of saucers was exclusively made of clear plant saucers of various sizes.

Dan Vander Vort, Owner of YOUuniversal Products, had this to say: "We are excited to launch the first of our plant saucers with color online. We hope to expand the variety of colors and sizes of this new line of saucers, as our customers request more variations. The company plans to add a terra cotta variation of the 12" saucers, within the next 30 days. Additionally, YOUuniversal Products will add at least three additional sizes to our clear plastic saucer line in 2017. We chose the 12" black saucers as our first product with color because the clear version of the 12" saucer is one of the best-selling products from our existing line of plant saucers." YOUuniversal Products' existing clear plant saucers can be found at: <https://www.amazon.com/dp/B01E2T3QEG>

The company notes several benefits of their plastic saucers include: being light weight and more durable than traditional terra cotta or ceramic saucers. "Many of our customers prefer plastic saucers in high-traffic areas because, if someone bumps into the saucer, there is no risk of broken terra cotta or ceramic saucer pieces. Plastic saucers are also much more economical to ship, when purchased online. This benefits our customers because they are getting more value out of the products we sell," said Dan Vander Vort.

YOUuniversal Products was founded in 2014, and they do business solely online. They utilize several sales platforms including: Amazon, eBay, Shopify, and an ecommerce website to sell their products. They also utilize distribution centers throughout the United States to provide two-day shipping to their customers.
