Plastic surgery has seen tremendous developments in recent years, with technological and medical advances making such procedures safer, less painful and more esthetic. The range of body reconstruction procedures has increased, and more and more clients are looking for professional plastic surgery to improve their appearance, correct scars and other imperfections, or recover after certain injuries.

The increased popularity of plastic surgery services has led to a similar increase in the number of such clinics. While many provide quality plastic surgery, there are some offering dubious services for lower prices. The potential risks associated with unlicensed plastic surgery range from scarring to life-long mutilation, making it essential for all prospective clients to contact professional doctors exclusively.

Image By Design is led by Melek Kayser MD, a professional, licensed and certified plastic surgeon providing a wide range of services. The clinic offers a comprehensive set of plastic surgery and cosmetic procedures, including liposuction, body contouring, facial surgery, fat grafting, <https://www.imagebydesignmd.com/fatgraft> laser procedures, and professional dermatology services. Dr. Melek Kayser provides custom upper-body reconstruction services using both silicone and gel implants, as well as autologous fat transfer, a procedure by which the patient's own fat is used to reshape the body.

The clinic also offers a comprehensive range of facial plastic surgery services, including rhinoplasty, facelift, brow lift, endoscopic forehead lift, chin and cheek enhancement, lip enhancement and many others.

To provide high-quality and high-fidelity services, the clinic uses a state-of-the-art 3D application which can render accurate simulations of a variety of plastic surgery procedures.
