Tempi's new drumsticks on Amazon help drummers be recognized on stage and transform any performance into something incredible! Charlotte, United States - April 16, 2017 /PressCable/ --

Tempi, a popular music company, released their new drum sticks earlier this week on Amazon.com!

"We decided to fill a gap in the market." said small-business owner Igor Mikhaylov of Tempi. "A new trend of glow in the dark drumsticks are emerging in the US market and we decided to jump on top of it. Until now, all have been electric and use LED's and batteries to glow and are rated on average 2-3 stars. We decided to create a drumstick combines the glow in the dark effect without using batteries and be incredible quality for playing ."

The new drumsticks have a fluorescent coating on the outside, which creates a "glow in the dark" effect when playing. This helps drummers finally be recognized and seen on stage. Additionally, it helps create an awesome effect for gigs, practice, performances and rehearsals from beginner drummers to advanced pros. Some light is required to create the glow in the dark effect such as background stage lights (as in the picture above).

The Tempi Drumsticks for Musicians are made of extremely high quality, hand-picked American hickory producing resilience, responsiveness, durability, and classic feel. Due to the quality of materials and fluorescent coating, the drumsticks come at a higher price tag than regular drum sticks making for a great gift for friends and family members.

Just like Tempi's #1 Best-Selling mechanical metronome on Amazon in the USA, the Tempi Drumsticks come with a complimentary warranty and 100% Satisfaction Guarantee. The company is committed to helping musicians succeed and accomplish their musical goals.

The drumsticks come in size 5A (the standard size for all players) and in the neon colors yellow, green and pink. Due to being a new product on the market, for this week only, Tempi is selling their drumsticks for just $12.99 per set!
