

Knomo Launches Kickstarter For New Wireless Charging Backpack

Knomo Partners With Funded Today To Generate Pledges

Knomo Partners With Funded Today To Generate Pledges London, United Kingdom - April 17, 2017 /FundedToday/ -- Knomo has just launched a Kickstarter campaign for their new LiveFree Backpack. The company has partnered with Funded Today to help bring more awareness to the campaign and encourage backers to pledge.

About The Backpack

The LiveFree Backpack supports an on-the-go lifestyle with unique tracking and charging features. The "DROP GO" section allows users to place their phone in the pocket for wireless and effortless charging. The integrated Chipolo tracker allows users to track their backpack via Bluetooth if it's ever lost. The backpack also features a water-repellant fabric and unique organization features to keep items uncluttered and safe.

Pricing and Availability

The LiveFree Backpack is available to back now on Kickstarter. Knomo has partnered with Funded Today to bring in more pledges and to help the campaign reach their funding goal. Once the project ends, the backpack is set to be produced and shipped to all backers by September 2017. The starting price for one bag is $202.
