Mommy Please first launched their 125-piece play food set just over one year ago. During that time, it has become a customer favorite and Amazon.com best seller. Today a Mommy Please spokesperson issued a statement explaining the company's commitment to making a quality product for children, that can also help them learn.

"When we created our play food set, we knew this was a product designed for children," explained Mommy Please spokesperson Elise Murphy. "In the world, today, helping children eat healthy, balanced meals is very important, and can be a challenge. We know that breakfast is probably the most important meal of the day. We currently have a new guide in development that will help to teach children about the importance of breakfast, and what makes a healthy breakfast. Our hope is that they can take this knowledge and example healthy breakfast eating through their play food set, then transfer this knowledge into making healthy breakfast choices in their lives each day. "

The Mommy Please 125-piece play food set is made of special formula plastic that is non-toxic, lead free and BPA-free . Since the play food set is designed for children, Mommy Please wanted to ensure their play food set was free from any potentially harmful chemicals and toxins. Some of the food items included in the play food set are peppers, waffle, corn, croissants, asparagus, apples, egg, grapes, chips, fries, oranges, watermelons, bread, milk, bananas, pizza, bananas, pears, hamburger, tomato, milk, lemons and more. By providing a large variety of food, Mommy Please hopes to help educate children about all the different food choices available.

It has quickly become the #1 toy food set on Amazon.com, and customers have left glowing reviews. With 400 customer reviews, 96% of the customers say they like their play food set and the average rating of 4.7 out of 5 stars. MLH, a satisfied customer, wrote a five-star review and said: "I went back and forth trying to decide which set to get for my grandson. At two he's always trying to feed me imaginary food. From imaginary to pretend he hasn't stopped playing with this set since it came today. My plan was to split it up as mentioned by another reviewer, but he wasn't having it! He's always in the kitchen at my side everyday. This is a great little set that will be used outside as well in his little swing/table clubhouse area. My spring and summer I'm sure will be filled with many pretend meals."

The Mommy Please play food set is available exclusively on Amazon.com, and is currently priced at $23.97, a 40% discount off the regular retail price, with free shipping available on all purchases over $49. Any customer not completely satisfied with their purchase can return it for a full refund.

About Mommy Please: "Mommy Please has worked tirelessly to bring children a play set that will never cease to keep their imaginations going. We strive to ensure that happiness, education, and creativity are all incorporated into play time every single day. As a company that focuses on family values, Mommy Please intends to influence the lives of families around the world."
