Global Metal Packaging Market by Product (Cans, Drums & Barrels, Caps & Closures, Others) - Forecast to 2022

Global Metal Packaging Market by Product (Cans, Drums & Barrels, Caps & Closures, Others) - Forecast to 2022 Pune, India - April 19, 2017 /MarketMedia/ -- Market Highlights:

The demand for aluminum aerosol cans has been steadily rising, reaching a new level, driven largely by technological improvements in product performance and features, and innovations in aesthetic appearance in terms of colors, shapes and prints. The expansion in end-use application, especially in the field of personal care products, consumer household appliances and pharmaceuticals ensure better market prospects. In addition, the growth potential of the beverage market bodes well for the profitability of the Metal Packaging Market.

However, factors such as increasing material cost and environmental issues are the major restraints that could hinder the market growth. As, two predominantly used materials in metal packaging are steel and aluminium which are expensive compared to plastic.
