Oral and dental health is essential for general wellbeing, as infections starting in the mouth can easily spread to other parts of their body, leading to severe health complications. For this reason, routine dental appointments are highly recommended for everyone wishing to enjoy proper oral health.

However, dentistry has often been associated with pain, excessive bleeding and other negative after-effects, which is why many people avoid going to the dentist unless they feel pain or experience other issues. Modern medical and technological updates have made dental interventions safer and often painless, with many clinics offering their services in a comfortable atmosphere to reduce any stress associated with dental interventions.

Dr. Igor Ochev has more than 16 years of experience in general and cosmetic dentistry and created EvoSmile, a new dental clinic offering a wide range of dental services.

He strives to maintain the natural teeth of his patients wherever possible, using state-of-the-art dental interventions and medical equipment. A certified provider of Invisalign, Dr. Ochev offers invisible braces for patients looking to correct their teeth alignment using an aesthetically-appealing method.

EvoSmile provide a variety of pediatric dentistry services for clients in San Rafael and the surrounding area. Dr. Ochev and his team not only offer full dental services for children and teenagers, but also provide their young patients with the necessary dental hygiene and dietary education, to ensure life-long healthy dental habits.

The primary focus of the clinic is on patient comfort, where the EvoSmile team makes sure that their patients benefit from superior dental services in a stress-free environment. Dr. Ochev stressed the importance of patient satisfaction for his clinic: "We expect patients to receive high quality of care, in a light-hearted atmosphere, and when it's all over, for them to leave very happy and satisfied."
