More information about Elk Horn Painting is available at <http://elkhornpainting.com>

Elk Horn Painting works in association with Colorado's National Painting Group to provide residential and commercial painting services. These services are provided with a 2-year and a 5-year all-inclusive warranty covering materials, labor, and value-added services.

Exterior painting jobs are preceded by a specialized preparation that can include a full power wash of the exterior surface, caulking of cracks and nail holes, and the removal of peeling or damaged paint. Wood siding and protective paneling are treated by the application of wood putty, replacement of siding, and sanding.

The company's interior painting services are preceded by the relocation and covering of all electronics, furniture, and valuables with paint-resistant plastic drapes. Floors are protected from specks of paint with drop cloths. Other pre-painting preparations include sanding and patching of wall cracks and other surface defects.

Elk Horn Painting provides a free and detailed estimate based on an on-site evaluation of a customer's needs. Company estimators also provide multiple services and warranty options for interior and exterior painting contracts.

According to a spokesperson for Elk Horn Painting, "As preferred painting contractors Parker, CO has to offer, our expansion to South Denver is the result of growing customer confidence in our workmanship. The quality of our services is backed by the fact that we offer house painting services at affordable prices. We also provide customized painting solutions to businesses in and around South Denver. "

Elk Horn Painting is a licensed painting contractor providing standard and custom painting services in and around South Denver Colorado.
