All Natural and Unique have launched a new product to help relieve foot odor and itchy, sweaty feet. The Little Ugly Bottle foot cream uses combination ingredients to help keep foot odor at bay. For more information please visit the website here: <http://thelittleuglybottle.com>.

The Little Ugly Bottle foot cream is designed to help people who suffer with smelly, itchy, sweaty, tired or blistered feet. It combines natural ingredients that help combat these problems and leaves feet conditioned.

People tend to spend many hours everyday on their feet and wearing shoes and for some these can lead to a number of foot complaints. One of the main problems is foot odor. This is caused by foot sweat, which is completely odorless. However when it mixes with bacteria present on the skin it begins to emit the familiar foot odor.

The feet have half a million sweat glands and wearing shoes and socks traps sweat on the foot surface and keeps the feet at the optimum temperature for the bacteria previously mentioned to thrive. There are several steps a person can take to recent foot odor and other conditions.

The first step is to ensure that feet are properly washed and dried to remove any bacteria buildup and to minimize the moist areas that they like to inhabit. Another step is to allow feet to breath naturally by wearing natural fibers like cotton socks and leather shoes.

It is explained that Little Ugly Bottle foot cream uses combination of ingredients to aid against bacteria growth on the feet to keep them fresh and revitalized for a whole day. By keeping bacteria and sweat under control people can gain relief from the general itching and discomfort that comes with it, not to mention that embarrassing foot odor.
