Little Sleepy Head has announced the addition of its new Gentle Hair & Body Wash on Amazon.com which is being featured on the site's Best Deals April 14-28. Valencia, USA - April 21, 2017 /MarketersMedia/ -- After a highly successful launch on the official Little Sleepy Head website, the brand has now added its Gentle Hair & Body Wash to its Amazon.com offerings.

Moreover, now that this bedtime bath product is being sold on Amazon.com, it has also been added to the massive online marketplace's Amazon Best Deals. Throughout the time as a Best Deal, the product is available at a 25% discount from its regular price. At this price, parents can have the opportunity to try the Gentle Hair & Body Wash with their kids for the first time while enjoying a great savings at the same time.

This is only the latest among many products Little Sleepy Head has added to Amazon.com. The current list of offerings also includes the brand's toddler pillow, youth pillow, and several lines of pillowcases in different fabrics and patterns. Moreover, the company also recently added its new baby swaddles to its store on Amazon as well.

Little Sleepy Head is a California-based company started by a parent who designed new pillows out of necessity for their children who were struggling to sleep. It wasn't long after they created their unique child-size pillows that they found themselves making the products for other parents and their children, too. Today, the offerings from the company have grown, but they continue to be made with exceptional care by local men and women in the United States.

This allows the team at Little Sleepy Head and its loyal customers alike to feel confident that every product they sell will be of only the highest quality in terms of both materials and workmanship.
