Symbolic and dating back to the 1800s, this banner-styled flag originally created by Christopher Gadsden, an American statesman and general symbolizes American pride - don't take advantage of an American or they will strike.

When asked about the service that HJTC supply and the banner-styled Gadsden Don't Tread On Flag, one purchaser of the flag said, "Beautiful flag. I love it! I plan to hang it on my enclosed front porch as a statement to all who come to my house. Where I live we frequently have high winds, so the lightweight material would not be suitable for outside display. But I highly recommend this flag for sheltered places or locations where the winds are light or for indoor use."
