

Emotional Intelligence Coaching for Empathetic Leadership in High Demand

Leadership Call LLC, offers EQ Coaching from initial development to Executive leadership

July 17, 2017 (FPRC) -- A recent Wall Street Journal Study showed that 20% of employers now offer empathy training for leaders which is up substantially from previous years. Empathy is one of the 15 Emotional Intelligence skills measured in the EQ-I 2.0 assessment. EQ-i 2.0 is a powerful emotional intelligence tool published by Multi-Health Systems (MHS) and used by world class companies as a core instrument for developing high performance teams, groups, and leaders at all levels. It has been completed by millions worldwide and is the premier scientific measure of self-report social emotional intelligence.

Leadership Call, LLC a Veteran owned company specializing in Emotional Intelligence (EI) training using the EQ-i 2.0 Model offers Emotional Intelligence Coaching programs for individual performers to C level executives. The booming interest in applications of EI has led to a high demand for focused development programs. These EQ Coaching Programs provide participants a robust EI perspective from a foundational understanding to advanced concepts of leadership and group dynamics including a 360 option. The EQ Coaching programs all include and EQ-i Assessment, Initial debrief of results, tools for development, and follow on coaching sessions.

“Over the years we’ve been very fortunate to work with organizations around the world providing emotional intelligence certification training, workshops, and coaching. Based on a number of personal requests we are offering an increased variety of programs from initial EQ development up to and including Executive Leadership and EQ 360”

-Ed & Chris Hennessy, Leadership Call, LLC.

Visit EQ-Coach for or more information.

Leadership Call offers Emotional Intelligence expertise and services to clients worldwide in the following areas.

EQ-i 2.0 & EQ 360 Certification: A comprehensive program consisting of eLearning modules and a two day, highly interactive workshop conducted via web based training, the client’s location, or in Dallas, Texas. This course will equip the participant with the expert level knowledge to use the EQ-i 2.0/EQ-360 within their organization, company, or practice.

Emotional Intelligence Training & Coaching: Options include a half or full day emotional intelligence workshop or clients can request a customized EI program based on their specific needs. The workshop is for clients who want to harness the power of EI assessment and training as part of their professional development program. The program includes an EQ-i assessment, Workbook, EQ-i Development Plan, and EI Growth Graphs for development in a specific EI skill. Leadership Call will deliver the workshops on site at the clients preferred location or the half day workshop virtually. Additional services include EI based webinars, EQ 360 assessment, Speaking Engagements, and Emotional Intelligence Coaching.

About Leadership Call, LLC

Leadership Call, LLC partners with individuals and organizations to improve human performance with Emotional Intelligence (EI). Leadership Call is a leading North American provider of EI Certification and one of a limited number of Master Training Partners with Multi Health Systems. Leadership Call's expertise is sought by emerging companies, global corporations, government & military organizations, consulting firms, academic institutions, and professionals in Human Resources, Organizational Development & Training, Psychology, Executive Coaches, and many others. For more information visit www.leadershipcall.com

Contact Information

For more information contact Chris Hennessy of Leadership Call, LLC
(<http://www.leadershipcall.com/>)
214-537-4407

Keywords

EQ-Coach

Emotional Intelligence Coaching

Wall Street Journal

You can read this press release online here