

Englewood Towing Service expands to offer 24-hour towing and roadside assistance

Englewood Towing Service in suburban Denver, CO is expanding its operations to offer 24-hour emergency towing and roadside assistance to its service area in Englewood, Centennial, Aurora, Highlands Ranch, and Littleton.

September 25, 2017 (FPRC) -- Englewood Towing Service announced today that it is expanding its tow truck and roadside assistance offerings to 24-hour, around the clock, service.

The announcement comes at a time when the local towing company is also adding tow truck drivers and roadside technicians to its staff, and two trucks to its fleet.

Englewood Towing Service previously offered 24-hour towing during only certain days of the week.

“We’re excited to be growing again,” said John Crawford, owner and founder of Englewood Towing Service. “We saw an opportunity in our area to better serve our community and expand our operations. We often received calls for help after hours, and we could get to a few, depending on the day. Now, we’re equipped to field all calls at any time – day or night.”

Both towing and roadside options will be available to Englewood Towing Service customers in the southern and eastern Denver, CO suburbs 24 hours, 7 days a week, and on holidays. Emergency services include: flatbed towing, junk car removal, abandoned vehicle towing, motorcycle towing, car breakdown towing, accident recovery towing, dead battery jump starts, flat tire changes and repair, and lockout assistance.

Englewood Towing Service is based in Englewood, CO and serves the communities of Centennial, Aurora, Highlands Ranch, Littleton, Lakewood and others in the Denver region.

The company was started out of Crawford’s home garage in 1996, providing towing service and minimal roadside assistance at that time. Englewood Towing Service now employs more than 20 drivers, roadside techs, and dispatchers.

“It’s amazing how far we’ve come since I started on my own with one truck 21 years ago,” Crawford said. “Little by little we’ve expanded to where we are today.”
